

Teen Driver

Low Rates. Better Protection. Total Peace of Mind.

Together we can make roads safe

Traffic accidents are the leading cause of death for teens, and it's a sad truth that many of the thousands of teen driving accidents and deaths that occur each year are avoidable.

We all need to make smart choices when we're behind the wheel, because if we don't there can be severe consequences. And this is especially true for teen drivers. Distractions, drinking and driving, and even having passengers in the car can divert attention away from the road and that can lead to accidents and needless deaths.

Stay safe

There's a lot to think about when teens begin to drive. Here are a few things to consider when teens get behind the wheel.

- Establish a pre-start car routine that includes adjusting mirrors and driving position.
- Practice. Practice. Practice.
- Burgers, Instagram, texting and anything else that can distract you while driving can wait.
- Keep calm.
- Talk to your teen as you drive.

Mercury's Drive Safe Challenge

To help parents prepare teens for life behind the wheel, Mercury has developed an interactive online resource that includes valuable tips and information, as well as a driving contract, interactive quizzes, videos and more.

Looking to keep your teen safe and save money?

Teens can do their part by doing well in school and maintaining a 3.0 grade point average or better. This could qualify you for a good student discount, which can lead to big savings.¹

Here are other ways to save money with Mercury:

- No tickets, no accidents.
- Bundle your policies to get a discount.
- Increase your deductible to lower your premium.
- Drive a vehicle with a smaller engine.
- Reduce the number of miles you drive.
- Install an anti-theft security system on your vehicle.
- Enroll in a driving class.

Local expert advice

Your local Mercury agent can help you find out what it will cost to insure your teen and help you investigate the different types of coverage from liability to collision and comprehensive to uninsured/underinsured. Each covers gaps to protect your teenage driver.
